Arithmetic problem set 39

1. A fluffy purple unicorn found twelve shiny buttons. It then lost three buttons down a drain. How many buttons does the unicorn have now?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: The unicorn now has _____ buttons.

2. A grumpy gnome had eight toadstools in his garden. He planted nine more toadstools. How many toadstools are in his garden now?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: There are now _____ toadstools in the gnome's garden.

3. Penelope the penguin collected fifteen sparkly pebbles. She gave four pebbles to her friend, Freddie the frog. How many pebbles does Penelope have left?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: Penelope has _____ pebbles left.

4. Carlos the cactus had six balloons. A gust of wind popped two of them. How many balloons does Carlos have now?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: Carlos now has _____ balloons.

5. Olivia the owl ate seven juicy worms for breakfast. Then she ate five more worms for lunch. How many worms did Olivia eat in total?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: Olivia ate _____ worms in total.

6. Bertram the badger found three acorns under a tree. Later, he found six more acorns. How many acorns did Bertram find altogether?
   Number sentence: _____
   Answer: Bertram found _____ acorns altogether.